

COPY

Sent to Knickerbocker News + Times Union.

College of Education, Albany, New York, Sept. 12, 1961

Improvement of the teaching of English will be the goal of the Institute in English sponsored by the College Entrance Examination Board and the New York State University College of Education, Albany, to be held at the college in the summer of 1962. Three area professors who will be the instructors in the Institute have returned from a three-week planning session at the University of Michigan, at Ann Arbor.

The Commission on English of the College Entrance Examination Board has chosen the College of Education as one of twenty colleges across the country to be a center for English teachers to study and develop new materials and methods of teaching. Forty-five teachers from public, private, and parochial schools within fifty miles of Albany will be chosen to participate.

Graduate credit will be given for the Institute courses which were planned by the instructors, Dr. Gretchen Paulus, Associate Professor of English at the College of Education, Dr. Carl Niemeyer, Professor of English and Chairman of the Humanities Department of Union College, Schenectady, and Mr. William C. Kraus, Assistant Professor of Education (English) and supervisor at the Milne School, College of Education.

More

State College of Education at Albany

Institute, Add 1

The teachers will receive a fellowship from the Commission on English and they will take courses in composition, literature, and language. Time will also be spent in workshops developing materials and procedures to be used in high-school English classes. During the following school year these procedures will be tried and their effectiveness will be studied.

"Although the emphasis will be on classes for the college-bound students, each teacher will adapt the materials developed in the Institute for his own use and some materials might be applicable to all English classes," it was stated by the coordinator of the ^{Albany} Institute, David W. Martin, Assistant Professor of Education (English). By improving his own ability to write and to study literature and language, the teacher should improve his teaching of the same subjects to his high-school students.

STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK
NEW YORK STATE COLLEGE FOR TEACHERS
ALBANY

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION AT ALBANY

Frank C. Corvino
OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

Ex. 73

Immediate or after
1:00 P.M., Wednesday,
Sept. 13, 1961

EVENT: ALL COLLEGE CONVOCATION UNDER THE DIRECTION OF THE STUDENT BODY PRESIDENT, DAVID BROOKER

PLACE: PAGE HALL AUDITORIUM

TIME: WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, AT 1:00 P.M.

The purpose of this Convocation is to introduce the freshmen College
Administrative Staffs, as well as to officers of Student Government.

Administrative Staffs to be Introduced include:

Associate Dean Jack Derringer (Associate Dean for Student Affairs)
Associate Dean Elmer C. Mathews (Associate Dean for Administration)
Dean of Women, Dean Ellen C. Stokes
Dean of Men, Dean Clifton C. Thomas

Student Body Officers to be introduced:

Nykania (a 13 member judicial body of students)
Student Senate (a 33 member body representing students in student affairs)
Student Cabinet (this Cabinet includes the Ministers of: Finance,
Culture, Fraternities, Special Days, Publications,
Religious Groups, Recreation, and Services.)

GUEST SPEAKER: Dr. Edward Sargent, Professor of Education at the College

TOPIC: "A MEASURE OF SUCCESS IN COLLEGE"

Note: If published AFTER Wednesday, Sept. 13, at 1:00 P.M., the following points of

Dr. Sargent's speech could be mentioned: (He mentions eight points in all)

1. "Recognize that the student himself is his own best critic"
2. "Students should keep in mind that as much education should be received outside of class as in class."
3. "Recognize success as a process rather than as an achievement"

Note: Two years ago President of the University, Dr. Thomas H. Hamilton addressed this convocation, and last year, Executive Dean of the University, Dr. Hermann Cooper was the main speaker.

###

INTER-OFFICE MEMO

TO: Frank Carrino

FROM: Donald S. Allen, Chairman
Department of Chemistry

DATE 9/26/61 *

Wed
The Eastern New York Section of the American Chemical Society will hold its November meeting at the college on the 15th in 349 Draper at 8 p.m.

The Speaker will be Dr. Leallyn Clapp, Professor of Chemistry, Brown University. His topic - "New Developments in High School Chemistry." High School Chemistry Teacher awards will be made on this occasion.

Dr. Clapp is a text book author, and a member of the Board of Directors on the Chemical Bond Approach (one of the two major High School chemistry programs subsidized by the National Science Foundation). He has also served as Chairman of the Division of the Chemical Education of A. C. S.

$100

Don Allen prize?

Frank

*Will happy to supply more details.
This should be an excellent meeting.*

As on Chem.

STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK
NEW YORK STATE COLLEGE FOR TEACHERS
COLLEGE OF EDUCATION AT ALBANY
ALBANY

Immediate

Frank G. Carrino HD 3-1254 Ex.73

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

September 1, Albany, N.Y. - The College of Education at Albany awarded certificates to 28 high school teachers who satisfactorily completed the August driver training-safety courses, under the direction of Professor Thomas R. Gibson, Chairman of the Department of Safety and Health Education at the College.

An award luncheon at Herberts marked the completion of the two courses which ran concurrently: a three-week basic course in the Teaching of Driver Education, and a two-week course on the Problems in the Administration and Teaching of Driver and Traffic Safety Education. These courses, according to Professor Gibson, are designed "to prepare instructors to institute and teach driver education and teach driver education courses in their schools, or to give instructors advanced preparation in order to improve their teaching abilities." Many of these instructors, representing high schools throughout New York, were enabled to attend these courses through scholarship grants made available by the Allstate Foundation. These funds were the eighth annual grant by this Foundation.

Among those present at the luncheon were: John E. Arens, Director of Public Relations of the Allstate Insurance Company, White Plains, N.Y.; Edward Way, of Marsh Hallman Chevrolet, Inc.; Ernest W. Manning, President of the Albany Auto Club, Inc., and Drs. Edgar W. Flinton, William E. Seymour, and Frank G. Carrino of the College administrative staff.

Professor Gibson, along with Associate Professor Harry L. Clawson of

(more)

STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK
COLLEGE OF EDUCATION AT ALBANY
NEW YORK STATE COLLEGE FOR TEACHERS
ALBANY

Frank G. Carrino HD 3-1254 Ex. 73

Immediate

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

the College's Education Department were the instructors for the two courses. Special consultants for the training include: Harold Carlton, Educational Consultant of the American Automobile Association; Herbert F. Mayne, Associate in Adult Education, State Education Department; Kenneth Long, Assistant in Safety Education, State Education Department; James R. Barrett, Director of Driver Safety and Improvement, State Department of Motor Vehicles; Arnold W. Wise, Chief Counsel, State Motor Vehicle Department, and John L. Thomas of the Petroleum Institute.

####

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION AT ALBANY

Frank G. Carrino HQ 3-1254 Ex 73
Public Relations Officer and
Assistant to the President

Immediate

Exclusive for the
CORNING LEADER

September 15, Corning, N.Y. --New York State College of Education at Albany started classes on September 14, under the direction of Associate Dean Jack Derringer, the newly appointed Associate Dean for Academic Affairs at the College, according to an announcement by Dr. Evan R. Collins, President of the institution. Dr. Derringer had been Dean of the State University Corning Community College since its opening, three years ago. The Albany College has been without a Dean since mid-July, when Dean Oscar E. Lanford was named president of the State University College of Education at Fredonia. Dr. Derringer will carry responsibility for several functions formerly discharged by the Dean of the College, especially in academic counselling and the encouragement of scholarship.

The former Corning Dean was on hand to welcome terminal students of the Community College who are continuing their studies at Albany. They are: E. Keith Coombs, Louise Kammer, Barbara McClure, and Robert Van Wagner. Three other residents of Corning, Samuel L. Cole, Andrea Lee Hanas, and Franklin E. Tobey, also are attending the College of Education at Albany, as freshmen.

#####

College of Education at Albany

Frank G. Carrino NO 3-1254 Ex. 73

Immediate

Sept. 20, Albany -- Dr. Walter B. Keighton, Chairman of the Department of Chemistry at Swarthmore College, Swarthmore, Pennsylvania, will lecture on "Honors Seminars in Chemistry", at the College of Education in Albany, on Thursday, September 21, at 4:00 P.M., in room 150 Rusted Hall, according to an announcement by Dr. Donald S. Allen, Chairman of the Department of Chemistry at the College.

Administrators and faculty of the area colleges are cordially invited to attend Dr. Keighton's seminar lecture.

Swarthmore College has been one of the nation's leading institutions in developing "honors" programs for gifted students.

###

College of Education at Albany

Immediate

Frank G. Carrino H031254 Ex. 73

TO: Greenville Local
George E. Bleezarde, Editor,
164 Main Street
Ravena, New York.

Dr. Evan R. Collins, President of the State University College of Education, Albany, will speak at the dinner meeting of the Albany College of Education Library Alumni Association on Thursday evening, October 12. This dinner will celebrate the 35th anniversary of the founding of the Department of Librarianship, and will be held in conjunction with the New York Library Association Conference at the Laurels Hotel and Country Club, Monticello, New York.

Dr. Irving Verschoor, new director of the Department of Librarianship, and Professor Robert Burgess, who recently returned from two and one-half years in Korea, will greet the Alumni. Guests of honor will be Miss Georgiana Maar, President elect of the New York Library Association, and Mrs. Augusta Baker, coordinator of Children's Services, New York Public Library. Both Miss Maar and Mrs. Baker are graduates of the Department of Librarianship at Albany. Mr. Robert Chatterton, Librarian of the Greenville Central School is the Treasurer of this Alumni Association.

Same newsletter sent to following: Ravena News-Herald, George E. Bleezarde, Ed., 164 Main St., Ravena, N. Y.
Knickerbocker News, R. Fichenburg, Ed., Albany
Times Union, J. Leary, Ed., Albany.
Troy Record, Alton T. Sliter, Ed., 501 Broadway, Troy
Schenectady Gazette, John E. Hume, Jr., Ed.,
334 State Street, Schenectady.
Schenectady Union Star, H. R. Ekins, Ed., 211 Clinton St
Monticello Bulletin-Sentinel, Rubin J. Katz, Publ.,
Monticello, N. Y.
Monticello News, Gerald Gunthrop, Ed., 203 Broadway,
Monticello, N. Y.
Monticello Republican Watchman, Alvin O. Benton, Ed.
Monticello,